About AFTA

MISSION

- In 2015 Arts for the Aging, Inc. (AFTA) celebrates its 27th year and its 25th annual tennis tournament.
- Founded in 1988 by renowned sculptor Lolo Sarnoff, AFTA brings the arts to older adults, especially those who are frail and vulnerable.
- Workshops are designed to improve mental and physical health, longevity, and overall quality of life.
- AFTA is the D.C. region's leading arts service organization dedicated to combating isolation and spreading joy to seniors through frequent participation in the arts.
- The program's multi-disciplinary approach is unique nation-wide.

PROGRAMS

- AFTAwill this year engage over 700 older adults who are mostly frail and vulerable in all manner of weekly and bi-weekly arts programs.
- Workshops take place for groups in adult day centers, community centers, and nursing homes that focus on safety net services for older adults.
- AFTA trains and supports a faculty of professional teaching artists who engage seniors in painting, poetry, live instrumental music, dance, storytelling and more.
- Children take part in intergenerational workshops, learning from the knowledge of their elders, and giving seniors an emotional boost—bridging the ages and creating stronger communities.

SUPPORT

- Gifts to AFTA help to sustain high-quality arts programs that improve the lives of seniors who need it most.
- AFTA is a 501 (c)(3) not-for-profit, offering most services free of charge; donations are tax-deductible to the extent allowed by law.

Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure to welcome the players, family members and friends participating in the 25th Annual Tennis Tournament benefiting the Arts for the Aging, Inc. (AFTA).

As a passionate tennis player who loves the challenge of a good game, I enthusiastically endorse this tournament and the supplementary benefits to all participants. I am very proud that Montgomery County is the location for this wonderful event that does so much good for vulnerable residents.

I commend AFTA for sponsoring this tournament and for their dedicated commitment to assisting our economically challenged senior residents with health improvement and life enhancement. Through the many programs and special events, AFTA enhances the lives of many seniors living in the Metropolitan Washington area. Please accept my acknowledgement and appreciation for the hard work that AFTA does to ensure an improved quality of life and well being of our seniors.

Good luck to all the participants, and best wishes for another exciting tennis tournament!

Sincerely,

Isiah Leggett
